October 18 to 27, 2012

Bucknell UNIVERSITY

Dear Bucknellian:

Journey with us through the cradle of Western Civilization as we sail on a specially designed Mediterranean voyage that encompasses the glories of classical Greece, mighty Byzantium and the Italian Renaissance to sun-kissed lands that echo the deeds of Homer, Alexander the Great and Napoleon Bonaparte.

We are thrilled to offer this extraordinary eight-night Small-Ship cruise program aboard the deluxe M.S. L'Austral, a state-of-the-art vessel launched in 2011. This intimate, 120-cabin vessel showcases a new generation of ship design and technology and sets unprecedented standards in elegance and comfort. Retrace sea lanes once traveled by Venetian merchants and Roman galleys, and delve into a great swath of history and culture while sailing seven seas.

Explore the colorful villages, meet welcoming residents and taste the robust cuisines that have enchanted travelers for centuries. From the magnificent landmarks of Istanbul and the ruins of ancient Delphi and Olympia, to the spectacular UNESCO World Heritage sites of the Amalfi Coast and Pompeii, discover the blending of various cultures and civilizations that have surrounded the Mediterranean Sea. Marvel at the lofty views from the still active Greek theater in Taormina, stroll the flower-scented lanes of Palermo and admire the magnificent limestone cliffs of Corsica.

To complement your Mediterranean cruise, exclusive Pre- and Post-Cruise Options will be offered to Istanbul, Turkey and the French Riviera and Monte Carlo, respectively, each for two nights in deluxe hotels.

This excellent travel value includes four countries, all accommodations, excursions and meals and the opportunity to experience an itinerary not available anywhere else. I encourage you to reserve space now while Early Booking Savings are available.

Itea for Delphi, Greece

Sunday, October 21

The graceful ruins on the verdant slopes of Mount Parnassus recall Delphi's glory as the omphalos, or center of the religious and cultural world, and the mythological navel of the terra firma. Here, pilgrims from across the Mediterranean world flocked to pay homage at the great Sanctuary of Apollo and to listen to descendants of the Greek gods foretell the fates of mortals.

During this guided visit, you will see the Temple of Apollo, located at the end of the Sacred Way which was flanked by elegant treasuries, arcades and the Stoa of the Athenians. View the ancient Theater of Delphi and continue to the site of the Pythian Games, which preceded the Olympic Games. Tour the Archaeological Museum of Delphi where you will have the chance to view excavated items from the site and the famous Charioteer of Delphi statue.

Katakolon for Olympia

Monday, October 22

This morning, visit Olympia, one of the most important sanctuaries of ancient Greece and the birthplace of the Olympic Games first held in 776 B.C. See the celebrated, fifth-century Temple of Zeus. Visit the Archaeological Museum of Olympia to view the fourth-century statue of Hermes by Praxiteles and the Nike by Paionios uncovered during excavations. See the site of the ancient stadium, the largest of its kind which could seat up to 20,000 people and held foot races and contests of discus, javelin, wrestling, long jump, horse and chariot racing and a form of boxing called pancratium. Their writing, poetry and history reading events became a center for business transactions and political treaties and the games became the ideal place for honing the mind and body for your personal glory as well as for your city-state and the god Zeus.

Taormina, Sicily, Italy

Tuesday, October 23
Arrive this morning in the spectacular Bay of Naxos for a visit to the charming town of Taormina. This medieval town commands one of the most impressive settings on the island and is the 2,400-year-old center of Sicilian culture and commerce. Look for imposing, snow-covered Mt. Etna, Europe's highest volcano, and enjoy stunning panoramic views of Calabria. Visit the remarkably preserved Greco-Roman Theater, built in the third century B.C. and still in use today, perhaps located in one of the finest settings of any ancient Roman settlement on earth. Admire the 14th-century Corvaia Palace, an ornate, Gothic-Catalan structure; the medieval Baroque portal of the Cathedral of St. Nicola; and the Roman Odeon, known as the "small theatre." Then, enjoy time on your own to stroll along the famous Corso Umberto, Taormina's bustling shopping thoroughfare with a distinctive Mediterranean flair.

Palermo

Wednesday, October 24
Favorably located on a crescent-shaped bay at the foot of Monte Pellegrino, Palermo has attracted and absorbed almost every culture

Those who came to petition the oracle at Delphi were first required to offer a sacrifice at the Tholos, an ancient circular building constructed with 20 Doric columns created between 380 and 360 B.C.

Around every corner in Palermo you will find spectacular piazzas, intricate fountains and elaborate limestone sculptures depicting the blending of ancient cultures that have infused the heart of the city.

that has touched the Mediterranean world, blending Christian, Byzantine, Roman, Arab-Norman and Italian elements into a unique heritage encompassing all of Sicily's rich past. See the extraordinary golden mosaics that adorn the Palatine Chapel, and see the Norman Royal Palace, a perfect illustration of the Norman combination of Latin, Byzantine and Arab cultures. Continue on to see the Palermo Cathedral, built 1184. Also, visit the beautiful sixth-century Church of St. John of the Hermits, known for its bulbous red domes and elaborate architectural design.

Late this evening, the ship cruises in view of the most famous of the Aeolian Islands, the Island of Stromboli, known as the "Lighthouse of the Mediterranean" for the spectacular cone of its mildly active volcano.

Salerno for Amalfi Coast/ Positano OR Pompeii

Thursday, October 25

Upon arrival in idyllic Salerno, you can choose to tour one of two UNESCO World Heritage sites: Italy's spectacular Amalfi Coast or the ruins of Pompeii.

The Amalfi Coast features stunning views along the winding cornice of this stretch of Mediterranean coastline and epitomizes the allure of the Italian seaside. Admire the dramatic cliffs, secluded villages, opulent villas and sun-dappled beaches. Enjoy time on your own in the lovely village of Positano, popularized by John Steinbeck in a famous travel essay and now a favorite resort of international luminaries.

Alternatively, you could choose to explore the ancient Roman city of Pompeii, buried by the eruption of Mount Vesuvius in A.D. 79. Discovered and excavated 17 centuries later, Pompeii provides visitors with an intimate look at daily life during Roman times.

For ages, the island of Stromboli has served as a beacon by day and a lighthouse by night to sailors.

Bonifacio, Corsica, France

Friday, October 26

Dock in the town of Bonifacio, at the southern tip of the island of Corsica. This ancient port, perched on sheer white limestone cliffs overlooking its sparkling harbor, occupies one of the most beautiful settings in the Mediterranean.

Over the centuries, it has known Tuscan, Genoese and French control; today, its fundamentally French character still bears a strong Italian imprint, including the islanders' French-Italian dialect. Transfer by small train from the lively harbor to the medieval Old Town for a walking tour, dominated by the imposing Bastion de l'Étendard, the massive 16th-century citadel that once housed the headquarters of the French Foreign Legion.

Attend the Farewell Reception and dinner this evening.

Nice/U.S.
