Deed of Gift

Donor Statement I, the donor (name) _____ or the donor's representative (name) _____ hereby irrevocably donates and transfer legal and physical ownership to the property described below to Special Collections/University Archives at Bucknell University. I understand that these materials will be administered, preserved, and made accessible to researchers in accordance with all standards and policies in place now or in the future for Special Collections/University Archives.

Description of donation (If necessary, please continue on separate sheet.)

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

Terms of agreement

1. Special Collections/University Archives agrees to protect and preserve donated materials to the extent that it is possible and consistent with the repository's usual practices. In the case of loss or damage of materials by theft, fire, or other cause, Special Collections/University Archives and Bucknell University assume no responsibility or liability. The University and the Bertrand Library will not specifically/individually insure materials covered by this agreement.
2. Special Collections/University Archives may arrange or rearrange these materials according to accepted archival and cataloging principles to make them accessible to researchers. This includes digitization of materials for placement in a public or Bucknell University digital image repository or website.
3. Special Collections/University Archives reserves the right to discard or transfer donated materials outside the scope of its collecting mission, duplicate material, or material that is in frail or fragile condition. Please indicate your preferences below.

I give my permission to discard or transfer donated materials as deemed appropriate by staff in Special Collections/University Archives.

I wish to have these materials returned to me.

4. Within the limits of copyright, Special Collections/University Archives may make copies of the donated materials, including digital images, for the purposes of preservation, educational support, and researchers' use.
5. Special Collections/University Archives will have the right to display materials in both online and physical exhibits.

Intellectual property interests

Intellectual property rights include control of copyright, literary and artistic rights, or patents. Assigning intellectual property rights to Special Collections/University Archives allows researchers to examine and receive copies of specific items for personal research use or fulfill users' requests to reproduce materials in publications and other media. Researchers will be advised that the laws of copyright regulate the use of copied and reproduced material limiting allowable use to only personal research or educational instruction. Permission to publish materials will be granted on a case-by-case basis. Approvals will require proper citation and attribution to Special Collections/University Archives as controller of the intellectual property rights.

I control the intellectual property rights in some or all donated materials. (Please indicate on a separate page the materials for which you control the intellectual property rights and the nature of your rights, e.g. copyright, sole/joint owner, heir, literary executor, etc. It is assumed that you do not control intellectual property rights to all other materials that are not listed.)

I do not own control intellectual property rights in any of the donated materials.

To the best of my knowledge, the intellectual property rights are controlled by
