_The Muse_ is thrilled to highlight yet another Bucknell professor, Tulu Bayar, whose work will be featured in the _Amos Eno Gallery_’s exhibit, _Seeing is Believing._

"Amos Eno Gallery is pleased to begin the fall season with a group exhibition, which previews the various disciplines, techniques, and interests of our represented artists. Seeing is Believing will explore the distinctive characteristics of the artists at Amos Eno Gallery that range from traditional painting to unconventional new media. This variety also reflects the merging of different generations of creative minds, which engage and learn from one another. The show is unscripted, yet the various mediums and subjects complement each other and allow the viewer to synthesize the different styles."

The exhibition also features artists Anthony Dortch, Jane McClintock, Mimi Oritsky, Erik Patton, Sun Young Seo, and Walt Swales, and will run through September 30th. Head to Brooklyn and check it out!

9/10 - Writers at Work with Daniel Wolff - 4:00 p.m., Willard Smith Library, Vaughan Lit. The Writers at Work series, sponsored by the Writing Center, enables members of the campus community to chat informally with writers about their research, writing and revising processes. Everyone is welcome. Dan Wolff wrote the recently released book _The Fight for Home: How (Parts of) New Orleans Came Back_ and produced the award-winning documentary "I'm Carolyn Parker: The Good, the Mad, and the Beautiful," directed by Jonathan Demme. A _free sneak preview_ of "I'm Carolyn Parker: The Good, the Mad, and the Beautiful" will be shown Monday, September 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the Gallery Theatre, Langone Center 3rd floor.
9/11 - Green Screens: "Waste Land" - The 2010 award-winning documentary "Waste Land" will be shown Tuesday, Sept. 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Theatre in Lewisburg. The documentary is the first for the fall semester in the continuing Green Screens film series, sponsored by the Bucknell University Environmental Center (BUEC). "Waste Land" is presented as part of the Bucknell Film/Media Series. Admission is $2. The documentary focuses on catadores, self-designated pickers of recyclable materials in the world's largest garbage dump outside Rio de Janeiro, who create art from trash. The film will be followed by a panel discussion moderated by Wendy Chou, with Tulu Bayar, associate professor of art, and Peter Wilshusen, executive director of the BUEC and David and Patricia Ekedahl Professor of Environmental Studies.

9/12 - Dena DeRose Trio, 7:30 p.m., Weis Center for the Performing Arts. Free and open to the public as a part of the Janet Weis Cabaret Jazz Series. Dena awes audiences with her facility on the piano, her vocal talent, and the soul that she injects into the music she performs, and has accumulated an impressive list of performance credits. As a recording artist, Dena has 9 CDs, all of which have received superior accolades. Click here for more information.

9/13 - Faculty Recital: Cathal Breslin, Visiting Assistant Professor of Music, piano. 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., Sigfried Weis Music Building, Natalie Davis Rooke Recital Hall.

9/14 - Fall Dance Residency Showcase - 5:00 to 10:00 p.m., Tustin Dance Studio.

9/14 - Hilltop Film Series - Luxury Car (2006), 88 mins. Dir. Wang Chao, China. All Hilltop films shown on Fridays at 7:30 pm in the Gallery Theater (ELC 301). Click here to view the full showing schedule.

9/14 - Stadler Center Slam featuring poet Anis Mojgani - 8:00 p.m., Uptown. The Stadler Center has launched a new poetry slam series in conjunction with Uptown, Bucknell's student nightclub. Each evening includes an open mic session, a feature poet show, and a one-round poetry slam. All are invited to read in the open mic, compete in the slam, or just watch the show while enjoying free food and refreshments. For the first two years of the series, slams are hosted by three-time Rustbelt Poetry Slam Champion, Stadler Fellow Jamaal May. Doors open at 7:45 p.m. for sign-up. Open mic begins at 8:00 p.m.

9/15 - Stefon Harris and the Ninety Miles Project - 8:00 p.m., Weis Center for the Performing Arts. Recorded over the span of a week in Havana, local Cuban musicians were recruited to create the Ninety Miles Project. For their special appearance at the Weis Center, vibist Stefon Harris, saxophonist David Sanchez and trumpeter Nicholas Payton will perform. The songs reflect a popular view in Cuba - that music can heal, bring struggling communities together, and transcend the harsh realities of everyday life. The music of the Ninety Miles Project is uplifting and will inspire you to embrace the commonalities that we have as human beings despite cultural differences and language barriers.

9/15 & 9/16 - Fall Dance Residency Showcase - 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Tustin Dance Studio.

Check out the Janus Press Exhibit in the Bertrand Library! The exhibit features selected works from the Special Collections/University Archives extensive collection of limited editions by artist Claire Van Vliet's Janus Press and represents various illustrative techniques, fine printing, and the book arts. Runs through December 7, Lower Level I.

"Since the 1990s, the Bertrand Library's special collections has been collecting the works of the Janus Press which is now considered one of the most eminent, respected, and innovative fine presses in the United States. The Janus Press was established in California in 1955 by artist Claire Van Vliet who serves as proprietor of the press. Since 1966, the Janus Press has been located in Vermont, mainly publishes the works of contemporary writers while working collaboratively with other artists, paper makers, binders, and print makers to create hand made books, posters, and broadsides. The press' publications range from the more traditional or simple book form to artist's books where the book becomes an art form."

The Student Art Association is now accepting submissions for the student art exhibit until September 16th! The exhibit will be displayed in the student space downstairs in the L.C. across from the Bison. The theme for this semester's show will be My Passion. What are you passionate about? What inspires you? Please submit a digital copy of your work to ajj005@bucknell.edu along with your name, class year, medium, and size of your work stated in the body of the email.

Calling all comics! Friends ever tell you you're a funny person? Enjoy cracking jokes just to make people laugh? This is your chance to showcase your humor on stage!
