Calling all actors and writers! (NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY.) Do you want to say something but haven't had the opportunity to do so? Are you tired of being silenced? Do you think Bucknellians need to hear your story? If you answered yes to any of these questions, here's your chance to get Bucknell to listen up.

THIS IS ME is a play project designed to empower students, faculty and staff to collaborate through acting and writing in order to create a powerful play that will be presented on campus. We ensure a safe space for all participants and their experience. Writers & Actors: email any of the addresses below and get an application! The auditions will take place early in the Fall. They are unbiased to all backgrounds and will be cold readings of controversial monologues. We are not trying to test your acting ability, we simply want to see how well you take direction. If you want an application or have any questions, please feel free to email Ana Aguilera '14 (agas001@bucknell.edu), Elyas Harris '13 (edh009@bucknell.edu), David Gorman '13 (dng008@bucknell.edu), Vincent Stephens (vls008@bucknell.edu) or Bill McCoy (wkm004@bucknell.edu).

Check out Bucknell Writes, a new blog! "Bucknell Writes has two main goals: to highlight writers and writing at Bucknell and to share ideas and information that may interest our community. Everybody at Bucknell writes--students, faculty, staff, bio majors, engineers, historians, poets, chemists. Alumni write, too. All kinds of writing matter here."
