Welcome to BuckWild!

Get your spirit of adventure ready because you are about to venture out with Bucknell University’s Outdoor Education and Leadership on an exciting BuckWild expedition. BuckWild is designed to introduce you to other incoming students from your class and aid with the transition into the university setting. Experienced upperclassmen, BuckWild trip leaders, will also be joining you for this opportunity of a lifetime. We all look forward to experiencing this exciting expedition with you!

This document is designed to inform you about your BuckWild adventure and answer any questions or concerns you may have. Please read through all of the materials and if you have further questions contact Tony Stafford, the Director of Outdoor Education and Leadership at 570-577-3080.

I look forward to meeting you and your family on our exciting adventure this upcoming August!

Sincerely,

Tony “Tito” Stafford
Director of the Outdoor Education and Leadership

Purpose of BuckWild

The goal of the BuckWild program is to help with the transition into university life. Your first year at the university is the most critical and often perceived as the most challenging in any student’s mind. University can be tough because of the first time freedom you have making decisions, meeting new people, fitting into a new community, and adapting to a new culture. Our goal is to help with these issues by working to build a support network with you. We want to provide you with resources to help, when and if you struggle, plus by providing a challenging experience in the outdoors it will help boost personal confidence, and prepare you for the rigors and trials of the first-year experience. We believe this experience will aid you in making smart decisions during your first year and help you manage academic, social, personal-emotional, institutional adjustment, and beyond!!

Bucknell University is known for providing its students with a world-class education. What might not be as obvious is we at Bucknell try to help students succeed both inside and outside of the classroom. Today’s graduates will leave Bucknell not only with a tremendous education, but also strong leadership, communication, and problem solving skills whether in the backcountry, the classroom, the boardroom, or the lab. BuckWild and Outdoor Education & Leadership will be your first step toward a successful Bucknell experience and ultimately graduation.

WELCOME GRADUATION CLASS OF 2018!!!

Destination Information

The CAFÉ Program (Community Agricultural Food Expedition) is focused on service adventure. Outdoor Education & Leadership is collaborating with the Bucknell Office of Civic Engagement and the Lewisburg Community Garden to create an experience that reaches out to the local community, fosters growth and leadership through civic engagement. This experience is focused on the integration of sustainable food resources and how organic local farming can impact the local community in a positive way. You will have an opportunity to roll up your sleeves, get dirty, give back, and be emotionally energized and rewarded on the impact that you will make in short period of time. During the experience you will have a chance to learn the process of community organic farming, harvesting, and then giving back to local hot meal programs. You will also have the opportunity to see local farms, grain mills, and work with youth in developing their skills in sustainable agriculture. No experience is complete without a little outdoor adventure of hiking and/or paddling in the nearby area. This experience will be camping at Cowan (Bucknell’s off campus retreat space). You will get to interact with the Adventure Race Crew in the evening. This experience is flat out, just plain fun and rewarding! Previous students love the experience and enjoy working toward a common goal with their future classmates.

Expedition Preparation

This is trip is for a beginner. You certainly don't have to be in serious physical shape, but the experience will be active, you will be lifting, bending over, squatting down, using tools, and could be around heavy machinery. It's a good idea to have done some physical preparations in advance to make things less stressful upon your body. Examples could be light hiking, running, biking, swimming, or any other physical activity to get your heart rate up.

More importantly, please make sure to get plenty of rest prior to the trip; arrive refreshed as much as possible and ready for an awesome experience. We know the time is stressful with move-in, but try to take time to rest.

In addition, be sure to drink plenty of water the week before the trip to hydrate your body. The temperatures in August can be intense and we want to make sure everyone remains healthy during the experience.

Be prepared to roll up your sleeves, get dirty, and give back!

We do recommend preparing for the physical activity.

Expedition Itinerary

Sunday, August 17, 2014
- 7:30 am – Noon - Move in to the Residence Halls, Breakfast & lunch on your own
- 12:45 pm – Bring packed equipment (from packing list) for the trip to the Student Hearth Space (where you received your keys upon arrival in the morning) – Ground floor of Langone Center across from Bison
- 1:00 pm - Meeting with the Dean, Associate Dean, Director of Outdoor Education & Leadership, and BuckWild Student Trip Leaders
- 2:00 pm - Say good-bye to families
- 2:10 pm - Trip begins – Icebreakers, prepping gear, learning about equipment, evening activities, snacks, dinner, and the Traditional Grove Camp Out (you will not be sleeping in your room until Thursday when the experience is completed).

Monday, August 18, 2014
Wake up, pack up equipment, and depart campus! Hit the tail “running” – First stop Lewisburg Community Garden to learn to garden about the local garden and the impact on the community. You will help harvest locally grown food. After harvesting you will then learn how the produce is integrated into the local shelter community. At night you will arrive at Cowan to set up camp and enjoy evening activities prepared by the trip leaders.

Tuesday, August 19, 2014
This day will be spent in the morning learning more about the Lewisburg Community Garden. Then the group will head to Dream Catchers Farm. This is a local organic farm. You will learn the process of a larger farming entity in the area. You will also learn about the local Grain mill. Each experience will be hands on learning. The evening will end with a great cooked meal from Dream Catchers from much of the work you will have done. At night you will return to Cowan to set up camp and enjoy evening activities prepared by the trip leaders.

Wednesday, August 20, 2014
This day you will have the opportunity to work with local youth in the community garden. It will be opportunity to teach and grow with young individuals. You then will then have the opportunity to see how the experience finally works itself to the market. Lewisburg host’s a weekly Wednesday Farmers Market. You will get to interact with the local Amish population and learn about how the food makes it way to the market and onto your plate. You will get to experience some local flavor and seasonal food options during the market! The local Farmer’s Market is known in Lewisburg for their aroma of baked goods with fresh fruits and you will get to explore it firsthand! The market will be your playground to prepare your meal for the evening! At night you will return to Cowan to set up camp and enjoy evening activities prepared by the trip leaders.

Thursday, August 21, 2014
Wake up and break down camp. Your final day will be enjoyed by hiking locally or paddling on the Susquehanna River. Your team will arrive back at Bucknell’s Cowan Retreat Center. Your trip leaders will have planned activities for the day, closure activities, dinner and music with students, faculty, and staff, until 8 or 9 pm. Return to campus by 9:30 pm. Call parents, let them know that you are safe and it was the most amazing experience in your life!

• Sleeping Pad
• Headlamps for getting around at night
  - Disclaimer if you bring your own items, make sure it is light weight and packable. It should all fit in your duffel bag.

Bucknell Provides…(That You Really Should NOT Bring)
• Tarps/Tents
• Stoves & Fuel
• Cookware & Pots
• Water purification systems
• First Aid Kits
• Water Carrying Bladders
• Breakfast, lunch, dinner, and some snacks for each day
• And All Other technical gear for the experience

ITEMS NOT ALLOWED
• NO Cell Phones, IPODS, MP3 Player or ANY technology-based entertainment
• NO WEAPONS
• NO Drugs, Alcohol, or Tobacco Products
• NO Glass items. They can and will break.
• NO Cotton Materials -- they will not dry. Pack quick-dry, lightweight synthetics materials only.
• NOTHING SCENTED because of wild animals bears, rodents, etc., and because it attracts bugs (NO deodorant, make up, lotion etc)
• NO New Hiking boots (UNLESS broken in)

COTTON Disclosure…
- The Buckwild website packing list avoids cotton as a material to use during the trip. The problem with cotton is that when it gets wet, it never dries, and becomes heavy and un-usable for the duration of the experience (so you’ll be carrying it around and not be able to wear it again). If you want to bring a cotton sweatshirt, flannel, or one cotton shirt for comfort etc…, we do not want to absolutely ban such a decision. However, know that this is not necessarily recommended, and understand the negative consequences of having cotton if it happens to get wet on the trip. If at all possible, please stick with synthetic “quick-dry” materials. In terms of socks, you should really only have wool socks.
