

CLIMBucknell
PARTICIPANT AGREEMENT AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF RISK
Forrest D. Brown Conference Center at Cowan, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, PA

Challenge Course/Climbing Walls activities consist of both high and low group and individual challenge elements and may require problem-solving ability, touching, supporting and lifting other individuals, lifting heavy beams, climbing walls, using ropes and related climbing equipment, balancing, and walking on narrow beams, logs, ropes and cables that may be 50 feet or more above the ground. Activities are designed to be physically, mentally, and emotionally challenging.

It is not always within the power of Bucknell University instructors to protect all participants at all times from the hazards of challenge courses/climbing walls. The University teaches safety, but they are not infallible. They may be ignorant of a participant's fitness or abilities; they may misjudge the weather, the elements, or the terrain; they may give inadequate warnings or instructions; the equipment being used may malfunction.

Participants are supervised at all times and briefed on the nature of the activities. A training session provides participants with instruction in basic safety, communication and use of equipment. Dangers from known sources are explained, but unexpected hazards may arise. Known and unknown dangers may result in loss of or damage to equipment, accidental injury, permanent trauma or loss of life. Potential dangers include, but are not limited to:

- Falling from both high and low elements and climbing walls. Falling while tied to safety ropes.
- Injury including, but not limited to, cuts, bruises, abrasions, muscle strain, broken bones, punctures, rope/cable burns, internal bleeding and neurological damage.
- Injury from hand holds coming loose and/or objects falling from above the participant.
- Inclement weather such as wind, rain, lightning, extreme heat or cold, snow or ice, possibly resulting in hypothermia or heat-related symptoms.

Individuals who suffer from high blood pressure, heart disease, back problems, emotional instability, pregnancy or acrophobia should not go on high ropes without consulting their physician.

In consideration of the services to be provided by Bucknell University, its agents, owners, officers, volunteers, participants, employees and all other persons or entities acting in any capacity on its behalf, I hereby agree to release and discharge Bucknell University, on behalf of myself, my children, my parents, my heirs, assigns, personal representative and estate to each of the following issues:

6. I certify that I have adequate insurance to cover any injury or damage I may cause or suffer while participating, or else I agree to bear the costs of such injury or damage myself and hold Bucknell University harmless for these costs. I further certify that I have no medical or physical conditions that could interfere with my safety in this activity, or else I am willing to assume, and bear the costs of, all risks that may be created, directly or indirectly, by any such condition.

In case of injury as a result of my participation in this activity, I hereby give advance permission to obtain medical services on my behalf including but not limited to paramedic treatment, transportation by emergency vehicle to a medical facility, and treatment by emergency physicians. 8. I agree that if any portion of this agreement is found to be void or unenforceable, the remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect. A photocopy copy of this agreement shall be acceptable as a true and authentic copy.

By voluntarily signing this document, I acknowledge that if anyone is hurt or if property is damaged during my participation in this activity, I may be found by a court of law to have waived my right to maintain a lawsuit against Bucknell University on the basis of any claim from which I have released Bucknell University herein.
