ELECTION 2012: WHO VOTED HOW AND WHY?

Panel discussion

Wednesday, November 14, 2012,
7 p.m., ELC Forum

Please attend this exciting panel. You will hear from experienced national political pollsters, moderated by Professor Magee in Economics and Professor Ellis in Political Science.

ED GOEAS, President and C.E.O. of The Tarrance Group, a prominent Republican survey research and strategy team. Mr. Goeas has advised the McCain Presidential campaign and has also worked with a number of key Senate, House, and gubernatorial races in 2010. Goeas also works in partnership with Democratic pollster Celinda Lake on the nationally recognized “Battleground Poll.” Mr. Goeas regularly appears on national public affairs programs, including: “Meet the Press,” “This Week,” “Good Morning America,” “The Today Show,” “The News Hour,” FOX News, C-Span and CNN.

KARL AGNE, founding partner of GBA Strategies, which has conducted research for political campaigns at every level, including congressional and gubernatorial contests, as well as directing national research and message development for the Gore-Lieberman campaign. Agne’s analysis and commentary have been featured on MSNBC, CNBC, FOX, and NPR; in progressive blogs including “DailyKos,” “TPMcafe,” and “The Democratic Strategist;” and in numerous print outlets, including The Washington Post, New York Daily News, Business Week, The Nation, American Prospect, and The Boston Globe.
