

JEWISH LIFE at Bucknell

*At the Office of Campus Jewish Life we affirm and celebrate Jewish life while we also contribute to the growth, enrichment and education of the larger Bucknell community. Our Jewish students, faculty and staff work together to create an inclusive, pluralistic Jewish community on campus, welcoming to all. Students are encouraged to share familiar customs and experiences, or learn about something new, and explore their own sense of Jewish identity while at Bucknell. ## THE BERELSON CENTER FOR JEWISH LIFE

The door is always open to you at the Berelson Center, no matter how often you come. Join us for Shabbat dinner or eat in our Sukkah, invite your friends to watch a game or a movie here, or get some quiet study time in our library. Our kitchen is inviting, open and stocked. We inaugurated a separate, certified-Kosher kitchen in 2017. This is your “home away from home” and we mean it! You can always stop in to find a friendly smile, great snacks and a listening ear.

BUCKNELL HILLEL

- Organized and run by a student executive board in conjunction with Campus Jewish Life and Faculty Advisor Or Rogovin.
- Hillel at Bucknell works to plan and execute meaningful social and holiday programs, while networking with Jewish students at Bucknell and at other Hillels.

Jewish life at Bucknell has offered me a variety of incredible opportunities from weekly home-cooked meals to meeting some of my now-closest friends. The Berelson Center is always bustling with some sort of activity, whether it be studying, making matzo ball soup, or relaxing on the sofa post-bagel brunch. As the newly-elected philanthropy chair I am looking forward to the adventures my next few semesters will bring, as well as our annual trip to Ard's Farm (because who wouldn't be)!

The field trips are a great way to meet new people, whether from Bucknell or beyond the scope of our campus. Having just been renovated, the Berelson Center is better than ever and I know I speak on behalf of all my peers at Hillel when I say we can't wait to meet you! I'm excited to see new faces and extend our little family/community.

The group is supported by Campus Jewish Life and meets twice a semester for socializing and networking and is also building working groups to support Jewish Life on campus. Areas of interest the group is developing include: supporting Campus Life, Student Life and the Hillel, building a Jewish Arts & Culture calendar, bringing Jewish lectures to campus, supporting Admissions work, and deepening Bucknell connections with local synagogues and Jewish institutions in the area.
