BURMA

Legends of the Golden Land and the Road to Mandalay

January 20 to February 1, 2014
Myanmar, better known as Burma, has recently re-emerged from isolation after spending decades locked away from the world. Join us and you will be among the first Americans to experience this golden land of deeply spiritual Buddhist beliefs, old world traditions and more than one million pagodas.

You will become immersed in the country’s rich heritage, the incredible beauty of its landscape and the warmth of friendly people who take great pride in welcoming you to their ancient and enchanting land. Breathtaking moments await you amid the lush greenery and golden plains as you discover great kingdoms that have risen and fallen through thousands of years of history. See the legacy of Britain’s former colony in its architecture and tree-lined boulevards, and the influences of China, India and Thailand evident in the art, dance and dress of Myanmar today. Observe and interact with skilled artisans who practice the traditional arts of textile weaving, goldsmithing, lacquerware and wood carving. Meet fascinating people, local experts and musicians who will enhance your experience with educational lectures and insightful presentations. And, along the streets and in the markets you will sense the metta bhavana, the culture of loving kindness that the Burmese extend to you, their special guest.

This comprehensive itinerary features colonial Yangon, the archaeological sites of Bagan, the palace of Mandalay and the exquisite Inle Lake, with forays along the fabled Irrawaddy River. It was carefully planned to enhance your touring experience as well as to include wonderful, ideally located five-star hotels. It is an outstanding value and absolutely the best way to experience this ancient land.

Space is limited, so I encourage you to book now while Early Booking Savings and space are available.

Mingalaba!
Marco Polo called Burma “the golden land” when he traveled to this ancient cultural paradise in the 13th century and saw the thousands of glittering, golden pagodas, religious shrines and stupas that stretched as far as the eye could see. Six hundred years later, the wonderfully preserved enchantment of this land inspired Rudyard Kipling, a young 19th-century British soldier, to write the “Road to Mandalay,” a poem immortalizing the mystical beauty, grace and charm of Burma’s lands and peoples. The “Road to Mandalay” is the mysterious Irrawaddy River, a centuries-old conduit flowing from Yangon (Rangoon) to Mandalay and passing the tranquil setting of Bagan, a serene golden plain gently dotted with 11th-century pagodas and temples that still distinguish the landscape.

Burma’s allure continues to beckon travelers to experience a world where time has stood still—where vast, natural beauty, rich traditions, colorful pageantry and unsurpassed cultural heritage remain untouched and steeped in Buddhist traditions. Once cut off from the rest of the world, Myanmar has experienced a rebirth, opening its borders and allowing international visitors to see its exotic treasures and traditions, to encounter some of the more than 100 national races of people living together and to experience cedana, the creed that Myanmar people live by—a heartfelt goodwill towards friends and strangers alike.

U.S.
Monday, Day 1
Depart from the U.S. Cross the International Date Line.

Yangon, Myanmar (Burma)
Tuesday, Day 2
Arrive in the garden city of Yangon, the country’s former capital and home to the largest number of colonial structures in all of Southeast Asia. Check into the five-star CHATRIUM HOTEL ROYAL LAKE YANGON.

Yangon
Wednesday, Day 3
After breakfast, begin your tour of Yangon along its wide, tree-lined avenues and turn-of-the-century architecture. See the Sule Pagoda, where legend has it that a strand of hair from Buddha is enshrined in this golden stupa.
Notice that some young women wear yellowish-white paste on their faces called thanaka, made from ground tree bark, traditionally used for its cooling properties and as a sunscreen. Visit the 230-foot-long statue of the Chaukhtatgyi Paya Reclining Buddha and St. Mary’s Cathedral, built in the late 19th century and known for its beautiful stained-glass windows and its fortitude during the Japanese invasion during World War II. Continue to the Botataung Pagoda, known for its mirrored maze-like walkway lined with glass cases exhibiting many ancient relics and artifacts. Following lunch in a nearby restaurant, visit the National Museum to view the richly decorated Lion Throne, royal jewelry and ancient artifacts.

Enjoy the Welcome Reception and Dinner this evening.

Yangon
Thursday, Day 4
Today, meet with warm, friendly Myanmar people at the Gitamet Music Center, established in 2003 as a musicians’ community for adults and children, and hear a lively performance of traditional music. Continue to Kalyawwa Tawya Monastery, home to over 1300 monks and novices. Observe the gathering of monks and nuns during the dramatic, silent serving of their second and last meal of the day.

This afternoon, walk Yangon’s cobbled streets of Bogoke Aung San Market (Scott Market) where thousands of stalls feature Burmese jewelry, art and handicrafts.

Yangon/Bagan
Friday, Day 5
This morning, fly to Bagan, home to over 2000 pagodas, temples and stupas and one of the most remarkable archaeological sites in Asia. Visit five of the most notable temples in Bagan’s Archaeological Zone, including the Ananda Temple, a 12th-century architectural masterpiece built under the reign of King Kyanzittha.

Transfer to the deluxe Aye Yar River View Resort, a resort located on the banks of the Irrawaddy River, for lunch. Then, enjoy a traditional horse-drawn carriage ride amid Bagan’s remarkable temples, pagodas and stupas.

At sunset, enjoy spectacular views over Bagan from the unique vantage point of the Shweesandaw Pagoda. Return to the hotel for dinner.

Bagan
Saturday, Day 6
Begin the day exploring Nyaung U Market, where you have an opportunity to mingle with Myanmar’s friendly people. Continue to the Shwezigon Pagoda, built by King Anawrahta to enshrine relics of Buddha; it is one of the most significant religious structures in Burma as it served as the architectural model for future stupas. Essential to your stay in Bagan is a visit to a local lacquerware workshop where you will see and learn more about this ancient craft.

After lunch in a nearby restaurant, continue touring Bagan’s numerous pagodas.

Inle Lake’s native people, the Intha, have masterfully raised their boats with one leg for generations, freeing their hands to fish using conical nets. This unique stance allows them to see fish at the bottom of the lake.
The intentionally unfinished 18th-century Mingun Pagoda, still guarded by the remains of large stone lions, was irreparably damaged in an 1839 earthquake that produced wide cracks in its walls.

Enjoy a sunset cocktail cruise on the Irrawaddy River and watch as the changing light provides a breathtaking illumination of the ancient temples.

Bagan/Mandalay
Sunday, Day 7
This morning, fly to Mandalay. A former capital of the Myanmar kingdom and the heart of its royal history, Mandalay still has an imperial feel with the crowning glory of Mandalay Palace at its center. In Amarapura, the City of Immortality, stop at one of Myanmar’s most photographed sites, the U Bein Bridge, the world’s longest teak footbridge, which crosses Taungthaman Lake. Visit the serene Maha Ganayon Monastery, home to several thousand young monks, and Mahamuni Buddha Temple, a major pilgrimage site where gold leaf is regularly applied to the most revered Buddha in Myanmar by devoted followers. Lunch is in a nearby restaurant.

Later, visit the Kuthodaw Pagoda, known for housing the “world’s biggest book.” Its 729 marble tablets, each inside its own small, white pitaka pagoda, are collectively inscribed with the entire text of the Tripitaka (teachings of the Gautama Buddha). Next, from Mandalay Hill Pagoda, enjoy exquisite sunset views. Check into the deluxe MANDALAY HILL RESORT HOTEL, near the Royal Palace. Enjoy dinner in the hotel.

Mandalay
Monday, Day 8
After breakfast, visit the restored Mandalay Palace and Fort, the last palace to be built by the Burmese monarchy. Completed by King Mindon in 1859, he moved his capital from Amarapura to Mandalay as the location promised favorable omens. Stop at a gold pounding workshop and watch as gold leaf is flattened into thin wafers, a traditional craft preserved by the Myanmar people. Also, meet local artisans and observe the creation of exquisite, handwoven embroidery or intricate woodcarvings.

The remainder of the day is at leisure to pursue individual interests.

Mandalay
Tuesday, Day 9
This morning, embark on your captivating cruise along the “Road to Mandalay,” the Irrawaddy River. Dock in Mingun, known for its formidable Mingun Pagoda, left unfinished following a prophecy that warned if it was completed the country would be destroyed. See the famous 90-ton Mingun Bell, the largest intact bell in the world, which was to be installed at the top of the king’s unfinished pagoda. Visit the beautiful white Hsinbyume Pagoda, designed for the Buddhist mythological mountain, Mount Meru and most atypical of the traditional Buddhist architecture.

After lunch, arrive in Sagaing, where the hills are dotted with significant religious shrines and pagodas. Learn more about the ancient arts at Ywahtaung, home of the silversmiths’ guild. Return to the hotel for an evening at leisure.

Considered by many to be the center of Buddhism in Myanmar, the serene Sagaing Hills are known for their more than 500 monasteries.
The Shwe Indein Pagoda has an incredible collection of hundreds of weathered stupas dating back to the 13th century. When the wind blows, listen for the bells ringing at the top of the small stupas.

Mandalay/Heho/Inle Lake
Wednesday, Day 10
Fly to Heho and transfer to a restaurant in Pindaya for lunch. Enjoy a special visit to the 11th-century Shwe Oo Min Pagoda and its impressive limestone cave complex of winding chambers and passages filled with more than 8000 statues of Buddha dating back to the 18th century. The cave’s stalactites and stalagmites form fanciful shapes giving rise to their names, such as “Fairy Princess Loom.”

Board a longboat and pass authentic stilted villages en route to the deluxe Myanmar Treasure Resort, ideally located on Inle Lake, a place of peace and tranquility that offers a glimpse of the Burmese traditional lifestyle in a serene environment. Dinner in the hotel is enhanced by lovely views of the lake.

Inle Lake
Thursday, Day 11
Spend a full day exploring the treasures and natural wonders of magnificent Inle Lake by longboat. Watch for local leg rowers, or Inthas, in sampans. Cruise into the narrow and shallow canals of Indein Creek, and see thousands of beautifully decorated stupas nearby. Continue on to Phaung Daw U Pagoda, the most sacred site in Shan state, featuring five Buddha statues covered with layer upon layer of gold leaf.

Following lunch in a nearby restaurant, learn more about traditional cottage crafts by watching silk weavers and silversmiths. Visit the stilted Nga Phe Chaung Monastery, known for its domesticated jumping cats, a cheroot workshop and the fascinating floating markets. Enjoy a Farewell Dinner in the hotel.

Inle Lake/Heho/Yangon
Friday, Day 12
Fly to Yangon this morning. The afternoon and evening are at leisure. Continue on the Bangkok, Thailand, Post-Program Option with an overnight stay in Yangon or depart for the U.S.

Yangon/U.S.
Saturday, Day 13
Arrive today in the U.S.
