A voyage aboard the Deluxe Small Ship M.S. Le Boréal
May 21 to 29, 2014
Dear Bucknellian:

Across the length and breadth of Scotland and Norway lies an unsurpassed richness of archaeological heritage left from the age of the Vikings and before, where ancient stone monuments and castles present an enigmatic and imposing face to the world. Explore this fascinating land of ruins and castles, Viking and Celtic clans, and the spectacular natural features of misty isles, wild glens, lochs and moors. Hear Gaelic still spoken in the Highlands, where the history of the people that lived here for centuries cries out from the heather-covered hillsides. Experience the seldom-visited gems of the North Atlantic on a journey to the distant and mysterious islands along the idyllic seascapes and splendid coastlines of Scotland, Norway and Denmark.

This unusual and extremely rare itinerary follows along the stepping-stones of Nordic and Scottish civilizations during the best time of year, when the weather is mild and days are long, a unique voyage that can only be accomplished aboard a small ship that can access many of these smaller ports, where larger vessels cannot. The exclusively chartered, Five-Star M.S. Le Boreal has only 120 deluxe Suites and Staterooms and provides all the luxury and sophistication of a fine hotel.

Cruise from Copenhagen to Glasgow, two great cultural capitals, with opportunities to visit two UNESCO World Heritage sites, some of the most remote islands of the North Atlantic and incredible natural wonders of Scandinavia. Cruise through some of the finest scenery Scandinavia has to offer, a highlight of which are its coastal wonders—waterways, islands and Norwegian fjords. Travel the ancient shipping lanes of the Vikings as you cross the North Sea from historic Bergen; admire the natural beauty of the Shetland Islands with their remarkable links to the ancient past; learn more about Viking history on the tradition-steeped Orkney Islands; marvel at the astonishing 5000-year-old Callanish Standing Stones, which are considerably older than Stonehenge, on the Isle of Lewis; and, tour an iconic medieval castle on the majestic and tranquil Isle of Skye.

Join your fellow alumni for this unique small ship voyage and great value—all meals, excursions and accommodations are included. I encourage you to book now while Early Booking Savings and space are available.

During the Viking Age, which began around the mid-eighth century and lasted almost three centuries, the Men of the North were cast as fierce barbarians who plundered their way across the known world. Viking depictions of Thor’s hammer and Odin’s ravens, symbols of their pagan gods, helped propagate through oral traditions their mythos as fearsome invaders in the world’s imagination for over a millennium. Yet hints of their legacy found in runic inscriptions offer a splendid pageant of history and show them as practical opportunists and traders with a heavy cultural emphasis on poetry, artistry and technology. Vikings were extraordinary mariners, setting their long ships out to crisscross half the world and vastly extending its known boundaries, founding new colonies as far west as North America, as far south as North Africa and as far east as the Caspian Sea. They created a network of merchants and trade that linked directly to the Hanseatic League in Bergen, which immensely contributed to the development of the 15th-century economy on the Shetland and Orkney Islands. The many-sided achievements of their culture impressed themselves upon the non-Scandinavian world, and the complexity and nuances of their culture lie in wait of your rediscovery across their remote lands.

Join the Captain for a Welcome Reception on board this evening.

Bergen, Norway
Saturday, May 24
The city of Bergen was founded on an old Viking settlement in 1070 and has a proud history as an important part of the Hanseatic League’s trading empire from the 14th to mid-16th centuries. Today Bergen’s Bryggen (the wharf) still flaunts its colorfully characteristic wooden houses, which are listed on UNESCO’s World Heritage list. Tour Trolldhaugen, the summer home of Edvard Grieg, Norway’s most famous composer, and walk the grounds of his estate, where he composed many of his finest works.

Overlooking Loch Leathan and the Sound of Raasay, the Old Man of Storr is the most recognizable of Skye’s otherworldly rock pinnacles, remnants of ancient landslides.

Photo this page: Eilean Donan Castle has been rebuilt at least four times as Scotland’s feudal history unfolded.
Lerwick, Shetland Islands
Sunday, May 25
Explore the majestic Shetland Islands, declared a Global Geopark by UNESCO for their geologically diverse landscapes and seascapes carved and shaped by ice. Admire nature's endlessly changing colors and textures and listen for the clamor of gannets and puffins crowding the extraordinary cliffs. Though remote, these islands have a unique 6000-year-old culture, where Scotland meets Scandinavia at this North Atlantic crossroads and legacies linger in the archaeology, dialect and traditional music. From Lerwick, the capital of Shetland, journey to the southernmost point of the island to visit Jarlshof, a pending UNESCO World Heritage site and an extraordinary settlement revealing 5000 years of human history, including late Neolithic stone houses, a Bronze-Age village, an Iron-Age broch and wheelhouse, Norse longhouses, a medieval farmstead and a 16th-century laird's house.

Kirkwall, Orkney Islands
Monday, May 26
Experience the mystique of the Orkney Islands, remote islands ringed with red sandstone shimmering in the sea mist. Kirkwall, founded around 1035, is noted for having Britain’s most northerly cathedral, the 12th-century Viking-built St. Magnus Cathedral. Enjoy the gentle rolling landscape of the Neolithic heartland of Orkney, designated a UNESCO World Heritage site for its wealth of prehistoric archaeology. Pass the standing stones of Stenness and stop at the Ring of Brodgar, a huge semicircle of stones dating back to 3000 B.C. Continue to the 5000-year-old village of Skara Brae, a settlement built of stone that was only rediscovered in 1850 when a great storm wiped away its veil of sand. See Scapa Flow, one of the world's largest natural harbors, first used by the Vikings and later made famous for its role in both world wars.

Enjoy a tasting of authentic Scotch whisky during a tour of the award-winning Highland Park Distillery, believed to be founded in 1798 by the notorious smuggler Magnus Eunson. During afternoon tea on board the ship, listen to a seanachai tell traditional stories that have been handed down by fireside hearths over the centuries in these remote isles.
Stornoway, Isle of Lewis
Tuesday, May 27
On the northwest coast of the Isle of Lewis, in the “necklace” of the Outer Hebrides Islands, walk amongst the mysterious standing stones of Callanish (or Calanais in Gaelic), undoubtedly the ancient jewel of the British Isles, and learn more about the ingenuity of this astronomical structure, which accurately aligns the equinoctial sunset and the Pleiades while charting the lunar cycle. Travel along the beautiful west coast of the island, a spectacular blend of rugged mountains, peat moors, pristine beaches, flower-speckled machair grazing land and barren rocky landscapes. Visit the site of Dun Carloway, a Pictish broch, built as a defensible residence around the last century B.C. Explore the restored Gearrannan Blackhouse Village settlement, with dramatic views of the Atlantic coast, and listen for Gaelic being spoken as you view displays of traditional crofting activities such as weaving or butter-making.

Kyle of Lochalsh/Isle of Skye
Wednesday, May 28
Anchor in the Kyle of Lochalsh, tender ashore and visit Eilean Donan Castle, named for the sixth-century Irish saint who founded the first community on the island. Constructed in the 13th century and destroyed during the Jacobite rising before being completely rebuilt in the 1930s, it now stands as one of the most iconic and recognizable castles in the world. At the ruins of Armadale Castle, stroll through a spectacular array of flora in the 17th-century gardens and learn about the powerful reign of Clan Donald, Lords of the Isles until 1493, during a tour of the Museum of the Isles. The Isle of Skye is home to some of Scotland’s most phenomenal geography, and the mist, shafts of sunlight and vivid rainbows congregate here in a dazzling array of colors that seem to make the glens greener and the sea bluer. This afternoon, sail the coastline of romantic and ethereal Skye, from where Bonnie Prince Charlie, against the odds and with the help of Flora MacDonald, was able to escape to France. Attend the Captain’s Farewell Reception this evening.

Glasgow, Scotland/U.S.
Thursday, May 29

Norway’s most breathtaking scenery lies in its western fjords, where the mountains meet the sea.
