Burma-Bucknell Week End
November 11, 12, 13, 1949

Bucknell Christian Association
The Purpose

The world is a geographical and political unit. It must also be a community. The Christian Association believes that the most significant cohesive power is spiritual; that the Christian faith in God not only declares that all men are brothers, but requires us to practice this declaration. Peace will come when the minds of men want it. It is important for the peoples of the world to know each other - to share their common hopes, fears, experience, and faith.

So it is that this year the World Relatedness Commission is presenting to our campus a number of opportunities for building the fabric of a constructive world community: introducing leaders from other nations and cultures to our campus (see Hospitality Plan); raising funds through the W.S.S.F. for the relief of student communities abroad; bringing to Bucknell three or foreign students a year for study (with the cooperation of the University); presenting in March a conference of the U. N.'s Food and Agriculture Organization; in the spring a week-end with Indian students; and now to get to know personally some of the grand young people who will be Burma's future leaders, as a young nation struggles to stand amid the swirl of conflicting ideologies. Bucknell students and faculty members have through the Burma Scholarships for some years helped to train these leaders.

The Christian Association proudly presents these events on behalf of the University community - as it shares in building a world community. We salute our Burmese friends!

GUESTS

MANG HLA THWIN

Thomas Jefferson Hotel, 215 W., 101 St., NYC

A graduate of Judson College, a Methodist, and a Burman. Is now completing his PhD in Educational Psychology at Columbia University. He was here last year. Among his interests are soccer, tennis, and music.

He writes, "My father is a District Superintendent of the Burmese Methodist Church in a district north of Rangoon. My mother is a teacher and has been serving as the President of the Burma Methodist Women's Conference for some years now. I studied English under Mr. Rickard, but took my degree in philosophy. While at Judson, I also had the great privilege to take an active part in its religious work, and for some time was the President of the Student Christian Movement. After the war I worked as an instructor in Logic and Psychology at the University before I came to the States on a States Scholarship to study."

Daw AYE THWIN (Mts. Thwin)

Thomas Jefferson Hotel, 215 W. 101st St.

Graduate of Judson College, a Burman, and a Baptist. Is now a graduate student at the New York School of Social Work; interested in art and music. She spoke at the Banquet last year.

Daw Aye is the granddaughter of Rev. L. T. Syoo, and the late Daw Mya of the Poulmoin Baptist Church. This Lao family has produced many scholars, teachers and church leaders, the great grandfather having been baptised by Doniran Judson. Daw Aye was a leader of the Student Christian Movement in Rangoon University, and was the leader of more than one delegation to International Student Christian conferences in India and Ceylon. She studied under Mr. Rickard, and later was a tutor in English at the University. During the war she carried on social work under the occupation; and did much rural reconstruction work. She is here on a Fulbright Travel Grant, preparing to continue rural reconstruction work. "It is our conviction that the future of this continent must be built on a sound ideology of the spirit, if the economic and social framework is to be stable and secure," she writes.

Hunt Hall Guest Suite. Hosts: Elain Grove, Sallie Baumgardner, Mickey Soeger, Larry Rosoman

MA HLA MAE

Smith College, Northampton, Mass.

Ma Hla Mae is a newcomer to Bucknell's campus. She is a graduate of the University of Rangoon with her degree in English. A Buddhist, she plans to teach. Her hobbies are reading, writing, and sewing. Formerly, she was on the staff of the Department of English at the University of Rangoon.

U BA HMYIIN

Yale Divinity School, New Haven, Connecticut

U Ba Hmyin was a speaker on the program last year. While studying for his B.D. at Yale, he is also teaching Burmese at Yale University. He is a graduate of the Pierce Divinity School (Burma) with ThB degree, and taught at the Burma-Baptist Theological Seminary. He was also a Judsonian, and a member of the Baptist Church. In Burma he also taught school, was active in the resistance movement, and helped organize in the resistance movement, and helped organize the All Burma Christian Youth League.

Two summers ago he attended the World's Christian Youth Conference at Oslo, Norway; also the World Baptist Assembly at Copenhagen, and the World's Y.M.C.A. meeting in Edinburgh.

S.W. WILLIAMI P.W.

Chase National Bank, New York City

Saw William Paw took his M.B. ... from the Harvard Graduate School of Business last June. He was also on our campus last April. He is a graduate of Judson, a Karen, and a Christian. His mother is a nurse and his father was an evangelist on the frontier. He comes from a strong Christian family. His wife is also a Judson graduate. Saw William Paw's experience has included that of salesman, bank cashier, the rice and lumber business. He is interested in music, social work, and sports.

H.W. GO

Eastern Baptist Seminary, Philadelphia

Hou Go is a Chin (from the Chin Hills of Burma), one of very few of his minority group to finish the University. He was a holder of one of the Bucknell scholarships at Judson College, and when the Japanese invaded, was within a year of completing his Philosophy Honours. He worked with the British Government administration in the Chin Hills until the British were forced to evacuate. He then went to Madras Christian University in India to finish his college work, where he completed his Honours degree.

During vacation periods in India, he did much translation work for the Mission's literary program, being the only qualified scholar in both English and in Chin. He was offered a highly paid post in the Burma Civil Service, but chose instead to return to his own district as a Christian worker. He left his wife and baby at home, and came to the States to finish his seminary training for the chosen task.

Lambda Chi Alpha House. Hosts: Paul Lotto, Bob Patterson, D. K. Nanavati, Irving Williams

Ma Saw Hman

Ma Saw Hman has just come to this country from a year's work at London University on a British Council scholarship. Last summer she was engaged in a summer training conference for Y.W.C.A. leaders in Switzerland. She is a graduate of Judson, and holds her D.Ed from Rangoon University.

She is a Baptist, niece of a widely known and much beloved senior woman physician in Burma, Dr. Ma Saw Sa. She formerly taught at the famous Morton Lane School in Moulmein, and at the Kommondino Girl's School in Rangoon. An active and popular girl, she was soon married to an active young Christian leader, who did not, however, survive the war. With her infant son, Ma Saw Hman returned to teaching. She found time to help organize the All Burman Christian Youth League, and to serve on the Y.W.C.A. Board.

This fall she was invited by the Northern Baptist Convention to do some speaking in this country. She is flying down from Boston, and returns on Monday to Maine. While here she will speak at the Student Church.

Miss Funkhouser's apt. Hostesses: "Ginge" Werlein, Jan Bergman, Chuck Mercer.

MARGARET OHN BWINT

Margaret Ohn Bwint just arrived by plane from Burma on Tuesday, having had just ten minutes in London. She has been a student at Rangoon University for two years, and has come on a Fulbright travel grant to accept a scholarship at Frances Shimer College in Illinois.

She is a Karen, a Baptist Christian. Her father is an official in the Burma Civil Service.
