FAREED ZAKARIA

WEBINAR | OCTOBER 19 | 7:00 PM EDT

The Bucknell China Institute is pleased to host the 2021 China Town Hall, sponsored by the National Committee on U.S.-China Relations. Please join us for discussion with CNN host and best-selling author Fareed Zakaria, about how the U.S.-China relationship affects our cities, towns, and communities. From supply chains to national security, new technologies to climate change, the future of both countries will be determined by their relations with one another and the global community.

BRAD FARNSWORTH
Principal, Fox Hollow
Advisory

Following Q&A with Fareed Zakaria, the Bucknell community will be joined virtually by Brad Farnsworth of Fox Hollow Advisory, to continue discussion about U.S.-China relations in terms of academic and educational exchange. Brad Farnsworth has more than three decades of experience as a university campus leader, instructor, and association executive. He is an expert on international higher education policy, including skilled immigration, research funding and regulation, and international student recruitment. He serves on several boards, including as Vice Chair of the Alliance for International Exchange. He has led or advised on dozens of strategic planning projects that cover all aspects of campus internationalization, including partner selection, international learning, and international student enrollment.
