FEDERAL STUDENT LOAN INFORMATION FOR YOU TO REVIEW AND UNDERSTAND:

Maximum annual loan limits are $5,500 first-years, $6,500 sophomores, $7,500 juniors and $7,500 for seniors. Of these, the subsidized maximums are $3,500, $4,500, $5,500, and $5,500, respectively. Eligibility is determined by financial need, credits earned and loan program rules. Federal Direct Loan amounts can change upon further review of eligibility, generally resulting in funds being reallocated between subsidized and unsubsidized loans. We will notify you if your initial loan eligibility should change.

In order to accept the Federal Direct Loan amount(s) you would like to borrow for the 2021-22 academic year, we will have a new online process in myBucknell beginning in mid-June of 2021. After you have completed your initial online loan acceptance, please know that you will need to email us at finaid@bucknell.edu for subsequent loan changes such as increasing or decreasing loan amounts.

SIGNATURES/CERTIFICATION: The student and at least one parent must sign below, certifying that all information reported on this form is correct and that they will inform Bucknell’s Office of Financial Aid as soon as possible if changes occur.

We understand if the student is selected for a named endowed or annual fund, a portion of the Bucknell aid will be funded from the named endowed or annual account, but additional aid will not result. We also give consent for Bucknell to disclose the student’s name, intended major and activities to the donor of the named endowed or annual fund for stewardship purposes.

We understand that if we do not complete all financial aid requirements until after the deadline, or if our family’s income increases or number of children in college (enrolled at least half-time in first undergraduate degree-seeking programs) decreases, then the Bucknell Need-Based Grant will also decrease. We understand that Bucknell may withhold or cancel financial aid if we do not provide any required and/or requested information.

We understand that total gift aid at Bucknell cannot exceed the published comprehensive fee (tuition, student activity fee, room, board) plus $1,500 ($750 per semester.) If this total is reached, Bucknell aid (need-based and/or merit-based) will be decreased dollar for dollar to prevent an overaward. In addition, other situations may include, but are not limited to: If you receive aid from an outside agency in addition to our Bucknell Community College Scholarship, Posse Scholarship, or athletic aid at the level of tuition, please know that we may have to split your Bucknell aid unevenly for fall and spring to prevent an overaward for a semester or the academic year. If funds from an outside agency would result in your total aid exceeding our maximum, please know that Bucknell aid (and possibly other aid) will need to be adjusted to prevent an overaward. Typically, we will split outside funds evenly between fall and spring semesters. However, if an outside agency stipulates their total amount is to be applied in the fall semester, we will apply the entire amount in the fall and adjust your financial aid package accordingly to prevent an overaward. Our goal is to maximize aid for students as much as possible while adhering to our gift aid policy as well as federal and state financial aid regulations.

We give Bucknell’s Office of Financial Aid permission to correct our FAFSA based on tax return, W-2, data/verification forms and other information or documents that we have provided. We understand the information on our financial aid documents may be shared with the applicant and agencies from which we are requesting aid.

We give our permission for Bucknell’s Office of Financial Aid to communicate with us electronically via the student’s myBucknell email account and/or parent(s) email addresses.

We understand that financial aid is to be used only for the student’s education-related expenses such as tuition, room, board, books, supplies and general living costs. Federal financial aid regulations stipulate that the total aid package cannot exceed the total cost of attendance as established by the Bucknell’s Office of Financial Aid.

We understand that enrollment at Bucknell University constitutes a contractual financial obligation to pay tuition and any fees for classes in which the student is enrolled, and that the student’s financial obligations are required by the due date set by Bucknell Bursar Services each semester.
